GHE is becoming Terra Aquatica.

What changes?
GHE are beginning a rebrand to make their organic and mineral ranges more straightforward, and UK specific support on GHE products easier to find.

First to change names is the GHE organic range: From April 2019 General Organics is officially changing name to Terra Aquatica (TA).

What remains the same?
GHE’s famous formulations and ingredient quality have not changed: GHE is still independent and privately owned. The factory and team are the same, and so is the famous GHE product quality that won their super stable mineral range an official recommendation from AutoPot global.
